Practice Focus

Amanda Ashmore acts as Paralegal to Brian Rosenberg and Bryan Pelino. Amanda attended Stevenson University from 2011-2015 and graduated Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science in Paralegal Studies. While attending Stevenson University, Amanda participated in various law clinics including a family law clinic at the Self Help office in the Baltimore County Circuit Court, and a Bankruptcy Law Clinic at the Legal Aid Bureau in Baltimore City. Amanda was also an active member of Stevenson's Legal Society and, in 2015, was inducted into Lambda Epsilon Chi – a National Honor Society for Paralegal Studies. At Rosenberg Pelino, Amanda assists the attorneys with the documentation of various commercial and real estate financing transactions.

In addition, Amanda regularly performs title review on behalf of firm clients and is responsible for loan closings as well as post-closing procedures including UCC Financing Statement filings, record searches, and assembling closing binders.
